ANNUAL REVIEW OF PORTLAND.

Prefatory.

In presenting the third yearly issue of the Portland City Directory to the public, the compiler takes great pleasure in laying before them a larger and more complete work than any that has heretofore been issued. Many of the difficulties under which we labored, in order to procure statistical information for former issues, have been in a great measure overcome, in consequence of the public mind having become awakened to the importance and utility of an annual Directory, from which the citizens of Portland—and non-residents who are interested in our prosperity—may learn the extent of our city's commerce during the previous year, its increase in population, size and wealth, and, in fine, every fact which may come within the province of the compiler to lay before them.

The amount of statistical information which we have been enabled to publish in our present volume, is a fair index of what can be accomplished by the generous countenance of the public; and to those who have aided our enterprise, either by courtesy in extending information, or by their patronage in advertising, we desire to return our most cordial thanks, and to assure them that no effort shall be spared on our part to continue to render the Portland Directory worthy of their support.

Location.

Portland—in latitude 45° 30′ north, longitude 122° 27′ 30″ west—is a port of entry, the county seat of Multnomah county, and the Commercial Metropolis of Oregon. It is pleasantly located on the west bank of the Willamette river, about thirteen miles above its junction with the Columbia, and about one hundred and ten miles, by the river course, from the Pacific ocean. The city is located on a plateau which gradually increases in hight as it recedes from the river, until it forms a range of hills at the western extremity of the city, from which may be seen the snow-capped summits of Mounts Hood, St. Helens and Jefferson, the Cascade range of mountains, and the meanderings of the Columbia and Willamette rivers.

Commercially speaking, Portland is the key to the entire Willamette valley, being the entrepot at which arrives all the merchandise, machinery, and wares of every description, consumed or required by the inhabitants of the interior of Oregon, and also by the people of this State, Washington and Idaho Territories, resident east of the Cascades. The commercial interests of this city extend to every portion of the mining or agricultural regions of Oregon, Washington and Idaho, from the Pacific Ocean to the Rocky Mountains; and in almost every enterprise calculated to develop the resources of the country, where skill and capital are required to carry out the desired object, the citizens of Portland are foremost in aiding such enterprise. In proof of this assertion, we may point with pride to the numerous associations and incorporate companies who have their headquarters in this city, and whose capital is engaged in erecting bridges, opening mines, building roads, steamboats and telegraph lines, and in promoting the general interests of the entire northern Pacific coast, by their laudable efforts.

There are at present nearly twenty river steamers plying from Portland to the various towns along the Willamette and Columbia rivers, together with several ocean steamers and sailing vessels that ply between this city, the Sandwich Islands, Victoria and San Francisco. From this fact, readers at a distrnce may be able to form some idea of the extent of commerce for which Portland forms the depot.

Population.

The present population of Portland, as shown by a census taken especially for this work, is as follows :

Males twenty-one years of age and upward	1,654
Males under twenty-one	997
Females twenty-one years and upward	1,053
Females under twenty-one	1,062
Colored Males	57
Colored Females	33
Chinese Males	143
Chinese Females	57
Floating Population, estimated from calculations made from Registers of Hotels and Boarding Houses	763
Total Population	5,819

The foregoing figures exhibit an increase of upwards of one thousand inhabitants over the census of last year, and seventeen hundred and sixty-two over that of 1863. The city contains within its limits one thousand and seventy-eight frame buildings; fifteen one-story brick buildings, thirty-seven two-story and seven three stories in hight—in all, fifty-nine. Total number of buildings, eleven hundred and thirty-seven.

City Improvements.

At no period since its first foundation has Portland been so prosperous as during the year just closed. Much enterprise has been evinced in draining and grading some of the principal thoroughfares, and it is to be hoped that, under the new Charter, this class of improvement will be persevered in, until our city will present a more cleanly aspect to persons who may visit it.

Foremost among the more important improvements to which we may allude as having been perfected during the past year, is the new Presbyterian Church, on Third street, which stands at present as the finest church edifice in the State. The entire cost of the building was upwards of $20,000, which sum was donated entirely by residents of this city. The Catholic Church has also been enlarged and improved, at an outlay of about $2,000, the former building having been found too small for the rapidly increasing congregation. J. L. Parrish has also materially added to the wealth and beauty of the city by the erection of a splendid three-story brick building, fifty feet front by one hundred feet deep, on the corner of Front and Washington streets. The cost of this structure was upwards of $30,000. Another prominent improvement has been made by the erection of a brick building for Columbian Engine Company No. 3, on Washington street. This building was erected by the city, at a cost of $6,000, together with an appropriation from the funds of the Company of nearly one thousand. The lot was purchased by the city for $2,000.

In order to keep pace with the growth of the city, and for the purpose of accommodating the great increase of travel, it has been found necessary during the past year to enlarge and otherwise improve our principal hotels, among which we may mention Arrigoni's, the Western, the Howard House, Pioneer, and the Temperance House, all of which have been materially improved, and the What Cheer House and New Columbian, both of which have been erected during 1864.

In addition to the foregoing, a large number of stores and private residences have been erected within the past year, and, judging from what has already been accomplished in building improvements, we may safely estimate that Portland will double its present size and population before the advent of 1870.

The increase of trade with the mining regions of this State east of the Cascade mountains, and the Territories of Washington and Idaho, naturally called for increased accommodations for the shipment of produce and merchandise to those regions, and, in order to accomplish this end, the Oregon Steam Navigation Company have constructed a wharf, which excels in size and appearance any work of the kind on this coast. The building, exclusive of offices, store-rooms, etc., comprises two wharves—an upper and lower wharf—so that sailing-vessels, steamships, or river boats, can discharge or take in cargo at any stage of the water. The lower wharf extends two hundred and fifty feet along the bank of the river, and is one hundred and sixty-two feet wide. The upper wharf is two hundred feet long and one hundred and twenty feet wide. The hight between the stories is nearly fifteen feet. Two substantial roadways lead from Front street to the lower wharf, and one entrance to the upper portion of the building. Speaking of this mammoth improvement, the Oregonian says:

> The amount of material constituting the work is as follows: Piles and timber, 60,000 feet; sawed plank (from Oswego) 500,000 feet; iron and nails, 50 tons; shingles, 225,000; rock, 2,800 perch; sand, 5,283 bushels; cement, 600 barrels. Aside from what rock has been used in the sinking of cribs for the permanent security of the wharf, the three last named articles have been formed into a foundation for the construction of a fine block on Front street, which will probably be commenced the ensuing season. The plans of the work were made by Mr. J. W. Brazee, and executed under the direction of Mr. John D'Orsay, foreman. The whole cost of the improvement is estimated at $50,000.

Messrs. Couch & Flanders, proprietors of the Portland Wharf, have also enlarged and otherwise improved their wharf, so that ample accommodations at present exist in the northern portion of the city for the transhipment of freight. The cost of the Portland wharf and buildings is estimated at about $40,000.

Increased trade naturally called for an improvement in the navigation of the Willamette river at its confluence with the Columbia, so that sea-going vessels of a greater carrying capacity than those hitherto employed could carry their freights direct to Portland, without being compelled to discharge their cargo at the mouth of the Willamette. Accordingly, a movement was at once made by the mercantile community, who appointed a committee to superintend the removal of any obstructions to navigation, and in whose hands was placed a sum double that required to complete the desired object. We mention this fact to show the spirit of enterprise with which the citizens of Portland become possessed whenever any public improvement becomes necessary, and to assure those croakers who are constantly harping upon the downfall of our city, that at no time since the first log hut was erected on the ground where Portland now stands, has the perpetuity of this city been more successfully established than within the past year.

It must be borne in mind that all the foregoing improvements have been made by means of capital which has been accumulated in our midst, and this fact alone is sufficient evidence of the implicit confidence which is being placed in the stability of Portland.

During 1864, the City Council took the initiatory steps towards improving the Public Square, which has been graded and fenced at an outlay of $5,000. The County Commissioners for Multnomah county have also decided to erect during the present year, on the block known as the Pritchard property, near the Public Square, a substantial brick or stone edifice suitable for a Court House, and which may also be used as a City Hall, for the transaction of municipal business. The dimensions of the building will be fifty feet wide, by eighty-eight feet in length, with wings on each side extending eighteen feet. The lower or basement story is to be ten feet high; the second story—to be used for offices—is to be fourteen feet in hight; and the third story, which is to be appropriated as a Court Room, is to be twenty-four feet in hight. The entire hight of the building, from the basement to the cupola, will be one hundred and six feet. The plan was drawn by Mr. E. M. Burton, and the entire cost of the building will be about $100,000.

The want of a first-class flour mill, for the purpose of manufacturing flour at this point, whence it can be exported direct from the mill, without the delay, expense and trouble, which arises from transhipment from other points further up the Willamette valley, is a want that capitalists have long acknowledged; but we are glad to chronicle the fact that Mr. Geo. W. Vaughn has commenced the erection of a suitable four-story brick building on Front street, between Madison and Main. The basement of the mill is to be laid in stone, and the upper stories will be constructed of brick. The building will be eighty feet in length, thirty-two feet deep, and will contain three run of stone. A wharf one hundred and twenty-two feet in length, with warehouses suitable for the storage of grain, will be erected at the river entrance. It is computed that the mill and wharf, when completed, will cost at least $50,000. This will be one of the most permanent and useful improvements yet made in Portland. It is also projected by Messrs. Carter, Wiberg, Gray, and other owners, to construct a block of brick buildings, extending along Front street, from Alder to Morrison.

Many other substantial improvements are contemplated, but as we can refer to them at length when completed, we will omit further reference for want of space. However, we cannot close our remarks upon the improvements which have been made during the past year, without referring to an Institution which, although strictly speaking, is not located within the city limits, yet had its origin here, and is one in which every good citizen takes not only a deep interest but a laudable pride, appealing as it does to the best feelings of human nature: we refer to the Oregon Hospital for the Insane and Idiotic, in East Portland. This establishment was inaugurated by Drs. Hawthorne and Loryea, in the summer of 1861, when it was established in this city, but the number of patients having increased beyond the capacity of the building in use, it was deemed advisable to remove the location to the east side of the river, for the purpose of securing a good location. The present site was accordingly

Commerce for 1864.

The following statistics of the exports from Portland during the year 1864, are compiled from the returns published in the Oregonian, that being the only source from which we could glean even the most distant idea of the extent of our commerce. But it must be borne in mind, that the actual shipments of treasure by every departing steamer exceed by several thousand dollars the amount reported. This will at once be apparent to every business man, and arises from a multitude of causes; among which we may notice the fact of very many miners and merchants conveying large amounts of gold dust and treasure, which is not reported among the exports, hence we lose the credit of such amounts in summing up the aggregate shipments for the year. Aside from this drawback, we are gratified at being able to show an export trade of upwards of eight million dollars in produce and treasure during the last year, and if the amount of gold which has left this port unacknowledged, through the sources above alluded to, could have been properly estimated, our exports would easily have reached the sum of one million dollars a month; and even with this disadvantage, it will be observed that in two instances—August and October—our exports amounted to more than one million dollars each month—the former footing up $1,018,206 48, and the latter showing a monthly total of $1,075,359 00.

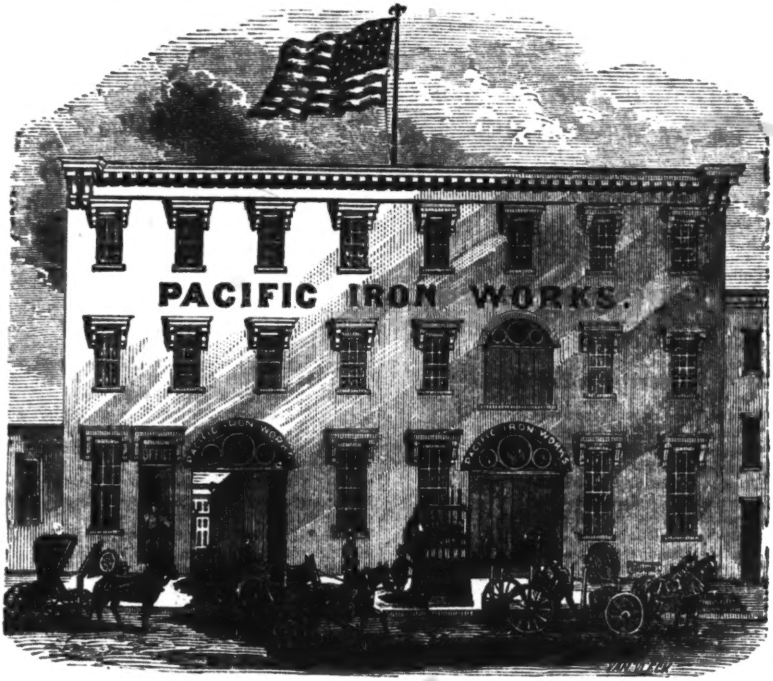
THE PACIFIC IRON WORKS,

ESTABLISHED IN 1849.



The Proprietors of the above Works invite the attention of all parties interested, to their improved and unequaled facilities for manufacturing

MACHINERY OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

Our Works are now conceded to be the most extensive and best appointed on this Coast, and the character of our Machinery, we have reason to believe, will bear favorable comparison with that of any similar establishment in the country. Our PATTERN LIST is most complete and extensive, embracing the late improvements in all classes of Machinery adapted to use on this Coast.

We would call special attention to the fact that we have secured the exclusive right of manufacture, in this territory, to the Celebrated which is pronounced by competent Engineers to be the most perfect and the most economical Engine now in use.

We are also sole Manufacturers of the celebrated

Bryan Battery, Varney's Amalgamators and Separators, etc.

All Orders executed with promptness, in the most thorough and workmanlike manner.

What officers elected from the city, and what from wards.

Sec. 16. The Mayor, Recorder, Treasurer and Assessor shall each be elected by the qualified voters of the city, and the Councilmen by the qualified voters of the ward from which they are chosen.

Election to continue; vacancy in office of judge or clerk of election.

Sec. 17. All elections shall commence at nine o'clock A. M. and continue until six o'clock of the same day, without closing the polls. If any judge of election fails to attend and serve at the proper time, the voters of the ward then present may elect another in his place; and if any clerk of election fails to attend and serve at the proper time, the judges of the election may appoint another in his place.

Qualifications of judges and clerks; errors and mistakes not to vitiate election.

Sec. 18. Judges and clerks of election must possess the qualifications of voters in the ward where they act as such, but a mistake or error in this respect, or a failure to give the notice required by section 14, shall not invalidate any election otherwise legal.

Returns of the election, to whom made, and by whom canvassed.

Sec. 19. On or before the second day after the election, the returns thereof from each ward must be filed with the Auditor, and on the fourth day after the election or sooner, if the returns from all the wards are in, the Auditor shall call to his assistance the County Clerk of the county of Multnomah and a justice of the peace, resident in Portland, and they three shall then canvass the returns of the election.

Sec. 20. A written statement of the canvass shall be made and signed by the canvassers, or a majority of them, and filed with the Auditor, within the time appointed to complete the canvass. Sec. 21. Immediately after the completion of the canvass, the Auditor must make and sign a certificate of election for each person declared thereby to be elected, and deliver the same to him on demand.

Effect of certificate; Council to decide contest for the office of Mayor, or a seat in Council.

Sec. 22. A certificate of election is primary evidence of the facts therein stated, but the Council is the final judge of the qualification and election of the Mayor and of its own members, and in case of a contest between two persons claiming to be elected thereto, must determine the same.

Contested elections in other cases, how decided.

Sec. 23. A contested election for any other office than that of Mayor or Councilman, must be determined according to the law of the State, regulating proceedings in contested elections in county offices.

Term of office; when to commence; effect of not qualifying in time.

Sec. 24. The term of office of every person elected to office under this act, shall commence on the tenth day after the election at which he was elected, and terminate accordingly, except as otherwise provided in this act; and by such time such person must qualify therefor by taking and filing the oath of office, and give such official undertaking for the faithful performance of his duties as may be required, or he shall be deemed to have declined and the office considered vacant.

Oath of office; and with whom filed.

Sec. 25. All officers elected under this act, before entering upon the duties of their office, must take and file with the Auditor an oath to the following effect:

"I, A. B., do solemnly swear, (or affirm) that I will support the Constitution of the United States and of this State, and that I will, to the best of my ability, faithfully perform the duties of the office of ——, during my continuance therein. So help me God."

If the person affirms, instead of the last clause, there must be added: "and this I promise under the pains and penalties of perjury."

Election laws of the State to apply how far.

Sec. 26. All laws of this State regulating and governing general elections and proceedings, and matters incidental thereto, shall apply to and govern elections under this act, except as herein otherwise provided.

OF STREETS, THEIR GRADE AND IMPROVEMENT.

Sec. 78. The power and authority to improve a street, includes the power and authority to improve the side walks or pavements, and to determine and provide for everything convenient and necessary concerning such improvement.

Sec. 79. No grade or improvement mentioned in Sec. 78 can be undertaken or made without ten days' notice thereof being first given by publication in some daily newspaper published in the City of Portland.

Notice of grade or improvement must be given.

Sec. 80. Such notice must be given by the Auditor by order of the Council, and must specify, with convenient certainty, the street or part thereof proposed to be improved, or of which the grade is proposed to be established or altered, and the kind of improvement which is proposed to be made.

Notice, by whom given, and what to contain.

Sec. 81. Within ten days from the final publication of such notice, the owners of two-thirds of the property adjacent to such street or part thereof, as the case may be, may make and file with the Auditor a written remonstrance against the proposed improvement, grade or alteration thereof, and thereupon the same shall not then be farther proceeded in or made.

Remonstrance against grade or improvem't, how and when made, and effect of.

If no remonstrance, may proceed within six months.

Sec. 83. In the case of a notice to establish a grade or alteration thereof, the Council, within the time limited by Sec. 82, may establish the same by ordinance as proposed in the notice.

Council to ascertain cost of improvement, and make assessment therefor.

Sec. 85. the block in which it is situated, and if a separate assessment is made upon a part of a lot, a particular designation of such part.

2. The name of the owner thereof, or that the owner is unknown.

3. The sum assessed upon such lot, or part thereof, and the date of the entry.

Docket a public writing, assessments entered therein a lien.

Sec. 87. The docket of city liens is a public writing, and the original or certified copies of any matter authorized to be entered therein, are entitled to the force and effect thereof, and from the date of the entry therein, of an assessment upon a lot or part thereof, the sum so entered is to be deemed a tax levied and a lien thereon, which lien shall have priority over all other liens or incumbrances thereon whatever.

How ownership of lots assessed to be ascertained.

Sec. 88. For the purpose of ascertaining who is the owner of any lot or part thereof, assessed for the improvement of a street, the Auditor shall take the certificate of the county clerk, for the county of Multnomah, stating who is the owner thereof, at the date of the ordinance making the assessment, as may appear from the record of deeds for such county, which certificate such county clerk is authorized and required to give when demanded by the Auditor.

Notice of assessment, how given and contents of.

Sec. 89. A sum of money assessed for the improvement of a street, cannot be collected until, by order of the Council, ten days' notice thereof is given by the Auditor, by publication in a daily newspaper published in the City of Portland; such notice must substantially contain the matters required to be entered in the docket of city liens, concerning such assessment.

When and to whom warrant may issue for the collection of assessments.

Sec. 90. If within five days from the final publication of the notice prescribed in Sec. 89. the sum assessed upon any lot or part thereof, is not wholly paid to the city Treasurer, and a duplicate receipt therefor filed with the Auditor, the Council may thereafter order a warrant for the collection of the same, to be issued by the Auditor, directed to the city Marshal, or other person authorized to collect taxes due the city.

Directions and requirements of the warrant.

Sec. 91. Such warrant must require the person to whom it is directed to forthwith levy upon the lot or part thereof, upon which the assessment is unpaid, and sell the same in the manner provided by law, and to return the proceeds of such sale, less his fees, to the city Treasurer, and the warrant to the Auditor with his doings endorsed thereon, together with the receipt of the city Treasurer for the proceeds of such sale, as paid to him.

Warrant to have force and effect of execution, how executed.

Sec. 92. Such warrant shall have the force and effect of an execution against real property, and shall be executed in like manner, except as in this chapter otherwise specially provided.

Deed to be made to purchaser, and redemption.

Sec. 93. The person executing such warrant shall immediately make a deed for the property sold thereon to the purchaser, stating therein that the same is made subject to redemption, as provided in this chapter. Within three years from the date of such sale, the owner, or his successor in interest, or any person having a lien by judgment, decree or mortgage on the property, or any part thereof, separately sold, may redeem the same upon the terms and conditions provided in the next section.

Redemption how made.

Sec. 94. Redemption is made by the payment of the purchase money, and twenty-five per cent. addition, together with interest upon the purchase money from the date of sale to the time of payment at legal rate, and the amount of any tax which the purchaser may have paid upon the property.

Effect of redemption by owner or creditor.

Sec. 95. A redemption discharges the property from the effects of the sale for the assessment. If made by the owner or his successor in interest, the estate in the property is thereby restored to such owner or his successor in interest, as the case may be; but if made by a lien creditor, the amount paid for the redemption is thereafter to be deemed a part of his judgment, decree or mortgage, as the case may be, and shall bear like interest, and may be enforced and collected as a part thereof.

Redemption how enforced.

Sec. 96. Whenever a purchaser or those claiming under him refuses to convey to a person entitled to redeem, such person may enforce a conveyance therefor by a suit in equity, as for a specific contract to convey real property; and such suit may be maintained against absent parties, without proof of tender of the money and an offer to redeem, if the plaintiff bring such money into court and offer then to redeem.

What portion of street, lot liable for the improvement of.

SEC. 97. Each lot or part thereof within the limits of a proposed street improvement, shall be liable for the full cost of making the same upon the half of the street in front of and abutting upon it, and also for a proportionate share of the cost of improving the intersection of two of the streets bounding the block in which such lot or part thereof is situated.

Assessment for intersection of streets.

SEC. 98. The probable cost of improving such intersection is to be assessed upon the lots or part thereof, situated in the quarters of the four blocks adjoining such intersection; but only upon the lots or parts thereof within the quarters nearest thereto, and in proportion to the cash value of such lots or parts thereof, irrespective of improvements thereon.

Estate or interest conveyed by sale.

SEC. 99. A sale of real property under the provisions of this chapter, conveys to the purchaser, subject to redemption, as herein provided, all the estate or interest therein of the owner, whether known or unknown, together with all the rights and appurtenances thereunto belonging.

Payment of delinquent assessment by lien creditor.

SEC. 100. When an assessment upon any lot or part thereof becomes delinquent, any person having a lien thereon by judgment, decree or mortgage, may at any time before the sale of such lot or part thereof, pay the same, and such payment discharges the property from the effect of the assessment, and the amount of such delinquent taxes and all accruing costs and charges, if any, when so paid, is thereafter to be deemed a part of such lien creditor's judgment, decree or mortgage as the case may be, and shall bear like interest, and may be enforced and collected as a part thereof.

Manner of making improvement to be prescribed by ordinance, subject to certain restrictions.

SEC. 101. The Council must provide by ordinance for the time and manner of doing the work on any proposed improvement, subject only to the following restrictions:

1. After proper notice the work must be let to the lowest bidder, but a bid by the owner or owners of two-thirds of the property in a block fronting on a street proposed to be improved, must be accepted, if as low as any other bid, and the Council may provide for the rejection of any or all bids, when deemed unreasonable; and that the bid of any person, who has before bid or contracted for such work and been delinquent therein shall not be received.

Deficit in assessment, proceedings in case of.

SEC. 102. If upon the completion of any improvement, it is found that the sum assessed therefor upon any lot or part thereof is insufficient to defray the cost thereof, the Council must ascertain the deficit and declare the same by ordinance; when so declared the Auditor must enter the sum of the deficit in the docket of the city liens, in a column reserved for that purpose in the original entry, with the date thereof, and such deficit shall thereafter be a lien upon such lot or part thereof, in like manner, and with like effect, as in case of the sum originally assessed, and shall also be payable and may be collected in like manner and with like effect as in the case of such sum so assessed.

Over assessment, proceedings in case of.

SEC. 103. The Oregonian,

A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY AND POLITICAL NEWSPAPER.

PUBLISHED DAILY AND WEEKLY,

BY HENRY L. PITTOCK, PORTLAND, OREGON.

PROSPECTUS FOR THE FIFTEENTH VOLUME.

COMMENCING NOV. 19, 1864.

The character of the OREGONIAN, which has been regularly issued for fourteen years, (being the oldest newspaper in the State) has become so well established, and is so favorably known, that we hardly deem it necessary at the present time to announce that it will continue to be a first class

Independent Family and Political Newspaper.

We shall spare no efforts towards further improvement and progress, and to make the OREGONIAN not only a complete compendium of current news and passing events, but also a pleasant fireside companion, and a faithful commercial guide. It will contain full reports of important Naval, Military and Political movements, with STORIES, Sketches, Poetry, and Editorials upon current topics, with correspondence from different sources, and Telegraphic dispatches up to the time of going to press. It is the only paper in Oregon that gives full and ungarbled telegraphic reports, and that receives these reports in full, expressly for its own columns.

The size of the WEEKLY is much enlarged with the commencement of the present volume, but the price remains still at the low sum of THREE DOLLARS per annum, hoping thereby to secure an increase of circulation as the reward of our enterprise.

Our columns will be devoted to the advocacy of Union principles, and we hope by a candid and courteous discussion of political principles, to command readers of every political complexion and the respect of all our readers.

We shall specially endeavor to conserve the interests and merit the patronage of the large and important mining regions of Idaho, Washington, and our own State, to publish all matters of interest relating thereto, and to do full justice to their growth and importance, and shall endeavor to receive interesting and reliable correspondence from that section of country.

LAWS OF THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Passed December 20, 1860.

The Board of Delegates of the Portland Fire Department hereby establish the following regulations:

ARTICLE I.

DUTIES OF CHIEF ENGINEER AND ASSISTANT ENGINEERS.

Section 1. The chief engineer shall, in all cases of fire, or alarm thereof, have sole and entire command over all apparatus and members of the department. His station at the time of fire, shall be where it rages most. His orders, discharging lines, shall be given through the assistant engineers in charge thereof, respectively. He shall have power, and it shall be his duty, to suspend any engineer, company officer, or company, for disobedience of, or unnecessary delay in, executing his orders, or orders of the assistants, or for disrespectful language; and he shall report the name or names, and facts connected therewith, to the board of delegates, when next convened, for their action. He shall inspect, (at least once in every month during the year,) and see that all fire apparatus, fire company houses, and public cisterns, are kept in good order and condition; and report to the Common Council repairs or supplies required by the department, or any company thereof. He shall, upon learning of any improper practices in or about the house of any fire company, notify the foreman thereof of the same, and, upon their repetition, report the name or names of the offenders, and facts therewith, to the board of delegates, when next convened, for their action. He shall sign all certificates of membership and exempt certificates, duly authorized by the board of delegates, and shall perform generally such other duties as the laws of the state and this department may require of him. If the chief engineer be absent from the city for a period of thirty days, without permission of the board of delegates, his office may be declared vacant.

Sec. 2. The assistant engineers shall, immediately upon arriving at fires, report themselves to the chief engineer for his orders. An assistant engineer shall not give orders, or in any manner interfere relative to the formation or conduct of a line, when he shall have ascertained that another is in charge thereof; and, to that end, he shall inquire of an officer in command of a company, whether another is in charge of the line. At fires, or alarms thereof, engineers shall convey their orders to companies by their respective numbers, and, if practicable, to the officer in command. Whenever the chief engineer shall be absent from the city, or shall be prevented from discharging the duties of his office, the assistant engineer, highest in rank, shall perform the duties, and possess the rights and powers of said office, during such absence or disability. If any assistant engineer be absent from the city for a period of thirty days, without permission of the board of delegates, his office may be declared vacant.

Sec. 3. The secretary shall keep full, fair and accurate minutes of the proceedings of the board of delegates. He shall keep a book, in which he shall write out in full the laws and standing resolutions adopted by the board of delegates, and properly index the same. He shall keep a registry of the department, which shall contain the names of all the members of the same, arranged under the name and number of the company to which they may severally belong; and shall show opposite each name, occupation, date of membership, (which shall be understood to be the date of the issue of certificate,) transfer, (both from and to a company,) suspension, expulsion, resignation, death, remarks. He shall likewise keep a book containing a separate list, alphabetically arranged, of all members finally exempt, and of all persons suspended, disbanded or expelled by the board of delegates. He shall have custody of the department seal, and affix the same, when necessary, to the notices, resolutions, orders, and laws of the board of delegates. He shall fill up and sign certificates of membership, service and exemption, when directed by the board of delegates. He shall collect all fines, dues and assessments, and pay the same over to the treasurer, taking his receipt therefor. He shall keep an account of all moneys collected by him for the department, specifying each sum paid in, by whom, and for what purpose, and report the same to the board of delegates in the months of February and August. He shall at the same time report the changes that have accrued on the registry of the department during the preceding six months, setting forth the names of the parties, their occupations, and whether elected, transferred, suspended, expelled, resigned or deceased. He shall in the months of May and November, and previous to each engineer's election, compare the returned rolls of the several companies with the registry of the department, noting on the latter all who have been transferred, suspended or expelled, or have resigned, or deceased; and shall furnish the judges of election with a certified copy of the voting list of each company, which shall contain only the names of such persons as shall have been members of the department sixty days immediately preceding such election. He shall require the president and secretary of the various companies to certify, under oath, to the correctness of their rolls, as returned to the board of delegates, and shall properly endorse and preserve said rolls among the papers of the department. He shall, whenever any engineer, company officer, or company, shall be suspended by the chief engineer, immediately furnish the accused with a copy of the charges upon which he or they were suspended, together with notice of the next meet-
